

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A proxy server apparatus receives a resource obtainment request from a client terminal apparatus, creates, from the received resource obtainment request, divisional get requests that specify resource obtainment ranges, and sends the divisional get 5 requests to a web server apparatus. The proxy server apparatus includes a control unit and a management unit. The control unit creates the divisional get requests by referring to margin times and wait times managed for each request by the management unit.